

From a constituent of Dan Gookin's re: "Homeless Parade":

Hi Dan,

Just had a nice conversation with the Postman for our area. He said the homeless people are so bad that the Post Office no longer will leave any parcels at people's homes in this area as the homeless people steal the items when the Postman walks away. I just love the daily parade of homeless people down here. I just took this picture. I wonder where this guy "purchased" the grocery cart. I'd call the cops but they are most likely not interested in returning the cart to the proper owner. I sure wish the people at City Hall would quit trying to save the world and worry about saving our community.
