

Christi Fleischman Announces, “No more campaign contributions for Post Falls City Council campaign.”

Post Falls, Idaho – Christi Fleischman announces her intentions to no longer solicit campaign contributions for the remainder of the race. The announcement came October 4th via the Christi for Post Falls Facebook page.

Fleischman wrote, “After prayer and consideration, I have decided to stop soliciting campaign donations. I feel that our community has many other important people and organizations that need our help. I will not win this City Council seat with a larger campaign budget but I will win it because of my experience and professionalism. If you were thinking about donating to my campaign, thank you. But I urge you to seek out a local cause that needs the funds and donate! I will walk-the-walk and be fiscally responsible as well as creative in the remainder of my campaign.

Thank you to all of you who have already donated- your support means the WORLD to me. I will stretch every last penny and make you all proud!”

From the beginning of her candidacy, Christi has been torn by the necessary evil of campaign fundraising.

“The winter months are upon us. We have people in our community that do not have food and shelter. Our senior center needs financial help. Campaign fundraising just doesn't make sense to me. I am a smart, energetic, creative, fiscally responsible person and I can win seat 4 based on my open mind, experience and professionalism. I don't want to take away from people in our community who need help. I'm looking at a bigger picture.”
