

Christmas Prayers

by KCRR President, Jeff Tyler

On this eve of Christmas while pondering the latest political controversy caused by the left wing's intolerance of a God loving American's public expression of his 1st Amendment rights, instead of becoming angry I actually feel sorry for them. Traditional valued Americans love holidays starting with Easter, a time for us to acknowledge that Jesus died for us that we may have everlasting life. The left prefers to focus it on a prolific bunny. Then we have the 4th of July, a time we celebrate our nations birth through the defeat of the British and it's tyrannical centralized government by average citizen soldiers and most agree, divine providence. The left mostly ignores the 4th as it reminds them of the Tea Party. Next is Thanksgiving when we are thankful for the blessings of a New World where we could be free from religious persecution to worship as we please and have the ability to achieve our dreams by hard work and determination without the restraint of oppressive government. The left wants to teach that we stole this land from the Indians. Now here we are at Christmas, a time to celebrate the birth of Christ, very politically incorrect for unbelievers who try their hardest to remove Christ from Christmas. I presumed the only reason we could still have Christmas was the love Liberals have for a "Santa Claus". But when thinking about it St. Nick is an old overweight white guy that moved his business to the North Pole to escape government regulations. He wears all red which means he must be Republican. He harnesses flying Reindeer, a protected species and he works elves day and night, probably for minimum wage, to get goods delivered on time. Not possible in a public private partnership. So my only conclusion is that the radical left will put up with ANYTHING in order to get a paid holiday and a bunch of free stuff. There fore this Christmas I am going to pray for those lost souls who focus on sex, drugs and money for their fulfillment that they would learn about the lasting fulfillment that only our Lord can provide. Only through accepting Jesus Christ as our savior is there real hope and change for the good. I wish you all a blessed Christmas and a happy happy happy New Year!
