Kootenai County Democrats Add A Second Location to Handle Large Crowds for Presidential County Caucus

Coeur d'Alene—A second location for the Kootenai County Democratic Presidential Caucus will be open on Tuesday, March 22. Caucus-goers can cast their votes at North Idaho College Boswell Hall and the Jacklin Building No. 25 at the Kootenai County Fairground. County Democratic leaders are also calling for more volunteers to help with what is looking to be a record-setting event.

The two caucus sites:

- The Schuller Performing Arts Center, Boswell Hall, North Idaho College, 880 W. Garden, Coeur d'Alene.
- The Jacklin Building #25, Kootenai County Fairground, Kathleen Avenue, Coeur d'Alene.

Kootenai County Democratic Chair Paula Neils added the site today because caucus planners have seen such a large response generated by the work of the Clinton and Sanders Campaigns. The first site of the caucus at North Idaho College Boswell Hall appears to be too small to hold the entire crowd.

The second site (the Jacklin Building #25 at the Kootenai County Fairground) is accessible only from Kathleen Avenue between Government Way and 4th Street.

Important note: People who plan to come to the caucus are invited to choose the site they prefer; however, Neils encourages folks coming from areas north of Coeur d'Alene and those who are arriving close to the 6 PM deadline to go the Fairground site.

Doors open at both sites at 4:30 PM and close to further arrivals at 6 PM. If an overflow crowd still occurs at NIC, those who arrive before the deadline of 6 PM will be given a ticket to take to the Fairground to prove that they were on time and therefore eligible for admittance.

“This is an amazing happening!” exclaimed Neils. “The presidential campaigns have added new excitement and urgency to spur Democrats to action. We welcome this opportunity to bring more Democrats together in Kootenai County.”

Participants are urged to sign up for the caucus online at kootenaidemocrats.org to speed the check-in process. A whole new team of volunteers is needed. Anyone who can help please call Paula at 755-9590 right away.
