

Kootenai County

Reagan Republicans

The Kootenai County Reagan Republicans:

An action oriented club for Republicans that promotes the ideals of limited government and personal liberty and responsibility exemplified by President Ronald Reagan.

Republican groups usually do not take a stand in city council races, but this year is different.

With Democrats Barack Obama, Nancy Pelosi, and Harry Reid spending billions on massive corporate bailouts, we cannot stand by as liberal Democrats and their allies on our Coeur d'Alene City Council spend millions of our tax dollars on the Lake City Development Corporation to "bailout" big developers and pay outrageous salaries to unaccountable bureaucrats.

The Kootenai County Reagan Republicans endorses the following candidates in the November 3 Coeur d'Alene City Council Election:

- Jim Brannon
- Steve Adams
- Dan Gookin

The Kootenai County
Reagan Republicans
endorses the following Candidates:

Jim Brannon

Jim Brannon is such a threat to the tax-and-spend liberals at city hall that, in a shocking act of dirty politics, they got him fired from his job as Executive Director of Habitat for Humanity. Jim is the kind of "threat" we need representing us.

Steve Adams

Steve Adams is the kind of prudent, plain-spoken citizen that we need in government. He has pledged "not to accept pay or benefits as a Councilman." That kind of selfless dedication deserves our support.

Dan Gookin

A tireless advocate of the citizens' right-to-know and holding government accountable, Dan Gookin is the watchdog we need representing us on the City Council.

Paid for by the Kootenai County Reagan Republicans.
