

Kootenai County GOP Central Committee letter re: Lincoln Day

With new priorities and opportunities at the national stage, Idaho can be the leader in implementing efficient and free market policies that will bring the prosperity of a vibrant economy.

For this year's Lincoln Day the Kootenai County Republican Central Committee will be hosting a dinner titled Making America Great Again Begins in Idaho. The dinner will celebrate local Idaho businesses and organizations that are making America Great in the "Gem of the Mountains". This dinner will provide a select group of individuals an opportunity to interact with a number of public, private and community leaders working with various incoming leaders of the new administration.

During this period of transition it is critically important that business leaders and their elected representatives have the opportunity to exchange ideas regarding the significant changes in many Federal programs that impact all of our lives. Changes including incentives to rebuild our local Idaho manufacturing base, block-grants of Medicare funds back to the state, returning control of education to the State and local level, implementing some form of school choice, significant changes in Federal control of Idaho lands, rolling back regulation overload, simplifying the tax code and reducing tax rates. Major changes are coming to our State. This dinner is the opportunity for business leaders and policy makers to discuss a constructive conservative future for Idaho.

In face of significant nationwide violence we understand that some of you have concerns regarding possible protests at our events. We would like to assure you that we have taken positive steps to ensure safety and civility.

This event is on private property and it is not a public meeting and civility will be strictly enforced. Anyone wishing to protest may do so outside on the public road. Anyone wishing to interfere with the rights of others to peacefully assemble will be asked to leave. We have also arranged for a uniformed Post Falls LEO to be present in addition to our usual security detail.

I believe it is essential that we not back down from a few bullies and miscreants out to intimidate American citizens and the best way to do that is a show of unity and strength. We hope to see you all there.
