

Kootenai County Republican Central Committee resolution

Whereas, the late famed American political scientist Samuel Huntington in his 1996 book “Clash of Civilizations” warned us about the emergence of a globalist “Davos Culture” comprised of progressive political elites around the world that is distinct from Traditional Western Civilization; and,

Whereas, Russia has become a nationalistic country that is resisting this progressive globalist agenda, and;

Whereas, globalists have recently been agitating against good relations with Russia because they see it as one of the last holdouts against a progressive globalist agenda, and;

Whereas, an America under an “America First” foreign policy should, to the contrary, pursue good relations with Russia and form an anti-globalist coalition strong enough to turn back the rising tide of the progressive globalist agenda, and;

Whereas, Idaho Senator Mike Crapo has recently authored a bill he calls the “Countering Russian Aggression and Cyberattacks Act of 2017”; and,

Whereas, Crapo’s bill strengthens the globalist “Davos Culture” position and weakens President Trump’s “America First” foreign policy; therefore,

Resolved, the Kootenai County Republican Central Committee strongly recommends that Senators Mike Crapo and Jim Risch re-examine their foreign policy orientations, and

Resolved, the Kootenai County Republican Central Committee urge Senators Mike Crapo and Jim Risch to reverse course and adopt an anti-globalist, “America First” foreign policy orientation.
