

THANK YOU, FABULOUS READERS!

We are nearing the finish line, thanks to this community's unwavering support for vibrant local journalism.

As we move from generations of family ownership to make The Spokesman-Review one of the nation's first community-owned newspapers, we have been blown away by how you have stepped up to make it happen.

By April, we plan to match the $2 million donated by the Cowles family and begin transferring the newspaper's ownership to the nonprofit Comma Community Journalism Lab.
